

We Want Babies NOW!

By Leslie Keller-Kenton
and Dennis Spielman

Photography by Dennis Spielman

This gift is a work of fiction. Names, characters, places, and incidents are products of the authors' creative imaginations or are used fictitiously and are not to be construed as real. Any resemblance to actual events, locales, organizations, or persons, living, dead, or undead, is entirely coincidental or totally intentional (really!).

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be used to reproduced in any manner whatsoever without written permission, except in the case of brief quotations embodied in critical articles and reviews. May be quoted in full by certain parties when attempting to justify the elimination of certain family members to a judge and jury.

To HUAFYHWWGB! Catering & Delivery Service

This is all your fault

Here's John and Leah, a couple most dear

With their cats and their music, their books and their and beer

They are busy with work and a house to rebuild

But their family has wishes that sit unfulfilled

Yes, babies.

Here's a candlelit dinner, waiting to sup

(Your parents want grandbabies-- hurry it up!)

Here is a bottle of champagne, ice cold

(We want to be Aunties before we get old!)

Here's a scandalous book for the couple to read

(LOTS of great-grandchildren, that's what we need!)

"Enough! All you people just need to relax.

And--HEY!

WHO SWITCHED MY PILLS
WITH A BOX OF TIC-TACS!?!?"

"Blow out those candles!

Pour out that wine!

We will have children when WE feel it's time!"

She threw them all out, gave her husband a look

"Let's sit by the fire and both read a book."

"My friend sent this story, and said
I would laugh.

I promised I'd read it soon on her behalf."

They opened the box with a bow on the top

And they started to laugh like they never would stop

When they had calmed down they remember her vow

So they read to each other...

"We Want Babies Now!"

The End

